

Dave Malkoff

Storyteller

Personal Info

Email
dave@davemalkoff.com

Phone
310-405-1400

LinkedIn
<https://www.linkedin.com/in/davemalkoff>

Skills

Strong storytelling and audience connection skills

International reporting experience

Ability to work under pressure

Strong ability to produce high-quality, engaging content.

Adaptability

Languages

English ★★★★★

Spanish ★★☆☆☆

Hobby/Interest

Dave Malkoff is The Chief Environmental Correspondent and host of the "Weather Channel Explores" documentary series on America's most trusted news network. He is widely considered one of the most respected journalists in the field of environmental reporting and has a reputation for being a skilled storyteller and an authentic, steady voice in times of crisis.

Work History

2012-07
- present Chief Environmental Correspondent

The Weather Channel, Atlanta

Dave is a highly accomplished journalist with over 25 years of experience reporting on some of the biggest global stories and natural disasters of our time. With six Emmy Awards to his name, he is a skilled storyteller who has reported live from some of the world's most dramatic and significant events. He has interviewed world leaders, and traveled to the Arctic several times to cover the impact of melting glaciers on sea level rise in the United States. With his ability to connect with audiences, Dave has appeared on The Today Show, NBC Nightly News, MSNBC, CNBC, CBS Mornings & BBC Breakfast covering some of the biggest stories of our time.

2010-04
- 2012-07 Television News Reporter

KTLA-TV, Los Angeles

Reported and produced for my own nightly featured segment, with a focus on technology and human interest. In 2010, Dave embedded with the US government during Operation Iraqi Freedom.

2007-04
- 2010-04 Television News Reporter

KCBS-TV, Los Angeles

Reported for my own nightly featured segment on CBS Los Angeles & CBS News on the network, covering breaking news and in-depth feature stories, including coverage of California wildfires and the death of Michael Jackson. Also reported on technology advancements and industry events, such as the launch of the iPhone, the Consumer Electronics Show, and the transition to digital broadcast television.

2004-02
- 2007-05 Television News Reporter

WFOR-TV, Miami

General Assignment Reporter for CBS Television Stations and CBS News, covering news in South Florida, the Caribbean, and the Southeast United States. Demonstrated versatility and quick response in covering major events, including being one of the only reporters to cover Hurricane Katrina from its early stages as a tropical storm in the Bahamas to its impact in the Lower 9th Ward of New Orleans.

2003-09
- 2004-02 Television News Reporter

KRON-TV, San Francisco

2000-09
- 2003-09 Television News Reporter

KTNV-TV, Las Vegas

1999-09
- 2000-09 Television News Reporter

WICD-TV, Champaign, IL

1996-09
- 1999-09 Associate Producer
WBNS-TV, Columbus, Ohio

Education

Political Science

The Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio